

If you have nothing that you are willing to die for then you have nothing that you are willing to live for – Martin Luther King

If you have nothing that you are willing to die for then you have nothing that you are willing to live for – Martin Luther King