Monochrome Leadership 2

Here is the second of four posts looking at “monochrome” leadership

Previously (https://boblarcher.com/leadership/monochrome-leadership/) it was the focused Reds, today it is those inclusive people-oriented expressive and influential Yellows

On a good day they can be characterised by being, optimistic, enthusiastic, articulate, entertaining, cheerful, and buoyant and on a bad day impulsive, overemotional, fantasist, moody and irrational

See above for a fuller description and for some hints & tips when interacting with them
