Monochrome Leadership 4

Here is the final of four posts looking at “monochrome” leadership.

Previously

Reds: https://boblarcher.com/leadership/monochrome-leadership/

Yellows: https://boblarcher.com/leadership/monochrome-leadership-2/

Greens: https://boblarcher.com/leadership/monochrome-leadership-3/

Today it is the turn of the disciplined analytical Blues On a good day they can be characterised by being, orderly, detached, disciplined, thorough, analytical, precise, diplomatic and objective and on a bad day they can become resistant, lost in detail, dogmatic, rigid, critical and cold See below for a fuller description and for some hints & tips when interacting with them